Town's Financial Picture Excellent

BEST OF ANY MUNICIPALITY OF SIZE, SAYS REEVE

A splendid picture of the town's financial standing was presented to council by Clerk N. L. Mathews on Monday night.

The auditor's report showed that during the year, $26,378 has been paid off debenture liabilities, leaving a balance of $169,940. The debenture debt, it was revealed, is the lowest in 19 years. In 1923, debenture figures showed $381,170 and in 1926, a decided increase was evidenced when the ledger showed a total debenture debt of $533,273.

Coincidental with the decrease in the debenture debt, tax arrears have also dropped extensively. Since 1936, arrears have been decreased by $20,624, leaving a total of $31,683 in current collectable taxes. A reserve fund of $12,000 has been set up against the 1941 tax arrears sheet.

The net indebtedness to the bank recorded at the end of 1941, was $5,975, with an additional sum of $27,500 in the capital account for a new well and reservoir in the town water system.

The electric light department showed a surplus of $3,873 as compared to a deficit last year, while the water department had a surplus of $3,518 as compared with a loss in '40.

"We showed a loss last year because we paid for many items that could have been put on debenture," explained Ald. Evans. "We have more customers now than ever before."

"We are in the best position financially of any urban municipality in Ontario of our size and population," declared Reeve Lundy. "Our debenture debt at one time was $533,000; to-day it is $169,000. Our tax rate has been gradually reduced, and we have balanced our budget each year. The town is one hundred per cent lighted, and has a one hundred per cent water supply. Our streets are eighty per cent paved. Ald. Bowser made a good job last year of the streets that aren't paved, and didn't run much over his budget."

"We also have a happy arrangement with the bank in the fact that Mr. Lambert is one of the best informed men I have ever met on municipal banking, and he is a great asset to our council. Few municipalities have more to boast of."

Careless Driving Brings Conviction

FAILING TO OBTAIN LICENSE BRINGS FINE

Russell Stork of Keswick, charged by Constable William Hill with careless driving and dangerous driving, pleaded guilty to both charges at Newmarket Police Court on Tuesday. Magistrate W. F. Woodliffe dismissed the dangerous driving charge and imposed a penalty of $10 and costs, or 10 days on the lesser charge.

"Your Worship, on February 4, at 7.30 p.m., I investigated an accident, one half mile west of Sutton on the county road," related the officer. "The accused's car had gone down the south edge of the road for one hundred and twenty-three feet, and then into the ditch for a distance of sixty-six feet. At the time of the accident, the road had a snowy surface. When I arrived there the accused was standing on the road and his car was being towed from the ditch. I had another man drive him home. He told me that he had been lighting a cigarette, and his car got over in the snow. No damage was done to the car."

Capt. T. Cochrane, of Camp Borden, was fined $10 and costs or 10 days for failing to have a 1942 operator's license, and $1 and costs or 2 days for failing to have 1942 license plates.

C. G. French of Toronto was fined $10 and costs for having no operator's license.

Edwin G. Baker of Toronto, charged by Constable Ferguson with illegal parking, was fined $5 and costs.

Mrs. Frank Clark of Zephyr, charged by Constable Aubrey Fleury with permitting an unlicensed driver to drive her car, was fined $5 and costs.

WHITCHURCH RESIDENTS HONOR COUNTY WARDEN

Four Hundred Attend Banquet Held in Mechanics' Hall, Aurora, For Reeve Charles Earl Toole

Four hundred citizens of Whitchurch Township tendered a complimentary banquet to their reeve, Charles Earl Toole, York County Warden for 1942, in Mechanics' Hall, Aurora, Wednesday night.

Mr. Toole, the first reeve of Whitchurch Township to hold this office since 1907, was honored in a toast proposed by Professor J. C. Steckley, of Ridgetown, and was the recipient of a fine gift, following an address by Deputy-Reeve George Leary, with Councillor Eugene Baker, both of Whitchurch Township, making the presentation. W. M. Cockburn, B.S.A., proposed the toast to "Our County," pointing out that York County has had a very enviable military record, both in the last war and the present one, as well as establishing a near-record for the country in Victory Loan campaigns. Reeve W. A. Armstrong of Etobicoke Township, and Reeve Fred A. Lundy, Newmarket, responded to the toast.

"There never was a time when we needed a two-fisted government like the present time," declared Reeve Armstrong. He said that councils "who govern the least, govern the best" and contended that municipal and county governments are the best "because they are the closest to the people."

Professor Steckley was guest speaker, while George Leacock was toastmaster. Entertainment was provided by the Harper Orchestra, including Roy Harper, Irene Harper, Helen Reid and Gladys Harper Ridley. Mrs. James Oldham and Mrs. Lambert Wilson were soloists with Miss Helen Evans entertaining with readings, and Rex Slocombe with sleight-of-hand tricks. John Crawford was secretary of the committee arranging the banquet, while Mrs. Toole, wife of the warden, members of York County Council and leading officials and citizens of Whitchurch Township were special guests.

Citizens Learn What To Do In Emergencies

The town hall was possibly half full last Monday night at the A.R.P. meeting. Capt. Woods from the Military Camp gave an interesting address on war matters in general, and stressed the need of more co-operation and more man power. What to do for a fractured bone as an emergency matter was taken up by Dr. J. H. Wesley, who demonstrated by a human skeleton, the difference between a sprain, a dislocation and a fracture.

In order to portray a vivid picture the doctor asked the audience to imagine the King George school bombed some morning, and the first aid rushes into the scene to find many children killed and maimed for life as the result of Jap or German bombs. Who would you take first? Not the one who was making the most noise, but most likely the one bleeding the most profusely, for the human body has only so much blood, and hemorrhage requires that the first aid shall keep his head cool and that he shall give prompt treatment to stop the flow of blood.

Next in order, the first aid should single out the one suffering with the most pain and, after finding the cause by rapid examination he should give remedies to relieve the suffering, also to give what other assistance the particular case requires. If he is pale, unconscious and pulseless, a look at the breathing and the appearance of the eye, may give you the picture of death in which case, there is nothing that you can do; but if you find evidence of life, he may be suffering from the effect of shock. Place the person in a comfortable position, add heat in some shape and give him some stimulant such as hot tea or coffee.

A person with a severe wound would be taken care of at the time the bleeding is being cared for. Having disposed of all the more urgent cases, you pick up some one who has a broken leg. The signs of fracture are pain at the place of fracture, usually he is not able to walk or use the limb, the limb may be out of position, he may have heard it snap as it broke. There may be heard what is known as crepitus, as the broken ends of bone are moved on each other. There may be an abnormal amount of movement about the place where the break has taken place, and lastly, there may be shortening of the limb when compared with the opposite one.

There are four different kinds of fracture: the green-stick, the simple, the multiple or comminuted, and the compound where the broken end of bone protrudes through the skin.

The treatment of fractures first requires that the person should be placed in a comfortable position, and that his pain may be relieved. If there is any hemorrhage, this should receive first attention. The hemorrhage should be stopped and an antiseptic dressing, a sterile or clean cotton dressing placed over the wound.

It was emphasized that the treatment required was only for emergency purposes, to place the limb at such a position of rest so that there could be no further damage.

"Masquers" Present Pleasing Performance

SOLDIERS' COMFORT FUND $140 RICHER

Booked as a great show, the "Masquers" of Toronto, who appeared here Tuesday evening under the auspices of the Soldiers' Comfort Fund in conjunction with the Victory Loan, lived up to advance notice. In fact, the capacity audience that crammed and packed the old town hall voted Frank Rostance's Company three-star rating, as the best entertainment here in years.

Two hours of fast-moving diversified entertainment, with a laugh a minute by this talented group who give freely of their services entertaining our armed forces, and helping put over major endeavours such as our Victory Loans, were truly crowd pleasers.

Connie Vernon, the comedienne, was par excellence, and her several numbers were side-splitting. Particularly did we enjoy her grand opera and "a campfire girl." Her supporting cast in the latter (the men of the caste dressed up in rompers and middles) was a rare treat that few of those in the hall will ever forget. This young lady is a headliner in any company.

The same can be said for John Giordmaine, the magician and illusionist. He had his audience completely mystified with his clever tricks. The little fellow, a native of Malta, is just as good as we ever saw on the professional stage. He has a personality that makes his performance tops.

Ann McKinney, petite soprano soloist, with her charming ways and well chosen popular songs, proved an instant hit, and was repeatedly encored. Grace McCutcheon, Spanish dancer, and her company of fast-stepping tap dancers, "The Top Hatters," rounded out a perfect show.

ENGLAND SAVED BY SLIMEST MARGIN IN MEMORIAM

"The troops at Hong Kong and at Singapore fought a delaying action to win time, and a good deal of the outcome of this war will depend on what we do with time they won," declared John Collingwood Reade, well-known radio commentator to Newmarket Lions on Monday night in urging the members to buy Victory Bonds. "The forthcoming few months will be the most crucial period of the war."

Mr. Reade graphically portrayed what the fall of France had meant to England. "We had expected the French, with their immense army, to defend the coast and the Middle East," he declared. "We had expected to use their airfields but with their collapse the English people found themselves threatened with invasion."

"On my visit to England in August of last year, I was amazed at the immense amount of industry and labour involved to keep Britain functioning as a community, and the immense amount of equipment that had to be manufactured to save the country from being burned up. If the Germans had sustained their devastating attack over London for another day at the time of the big air raid of incendiary bombs there would have been another great London fire, unequalled in history. We were saved from utter destruction by the slimmest margin."

"In connection with the German battleships escaping up the coast in the English Channel, there was no great marvel in this; the British are doing the same thing every day under constant attack of E boat and dive bombers. I spent two weeks on a British destroyer, and on one trip it accounted for an E-boat and gave a good account of itself against an attack by air. In fourteen months the British have devised and equipped their boats so well that the U-boat has little chance of success against them, and the Port of London is still clearing more shipping than any port in the world."

"The English people are happier today than at any time in their history. They have found their souls. The poor were never better looked after. The rich man knows and is living up to his responsibility. The bricklayer and the aristocrat have all gone through the same experiences. Living conditions are hard, but the fare is not unpalatable, and the general standard of health is better."

EDITORIAL

The financial picture of the town as presented to council on Monday by Clerk Mathews, and copies of which will be printed shortly, so that the citizens interested can delve thoroughly into the matter, is a pleasing one, coupled with the fact that the tax rate for '42, will be, it is promised, be down slightly over last year, and that, despite the $36,000 debenture for the well, the town's total debenture debt will be around $150,000. Arrears of taxes are also down sharply, which shows the municipality in a healthy condition indeed.

Considerable agitation from the clerk and some of the aldermen for an adequate place to conduct the town's business (which is big business) was aired last fall at several meetings and again on Monday night. We agree that the clerk's quarters are cramped, and that possibly the present system in vogue is not all it should be, but we think that any money spent on the present building at the top of the hill would be so much waste. What our town needs, and needs badly, is a suitable building which would house several of the municipal services as well as an up-to-date council chamber. But to talk of it in war time, when we are asking our citizens to invest every last cent in Victory Bonds, is inconsistent. A few years from now, when the war is over, and taking a lesson from the present, when huge sums can be spent on guns and tanks, we will build a model municipal building that will be a joy to the community and the clerk.

BRITAIN'S SHARE

It ought not to be necessary to point out that in this war the people of the British Isles have done their share—and then some, comments the Christian Science Monitor. But some folks have short memories—or big ears for Axis propaganda. Too many Americans believe that men from the Dominions or the Colonies have done most of the British fighting. This is one of the fallacies on which they base suspicions which hamper their own contribution to the United Nations war effort. For that reason the figures just released on British casualties may be useful.

They show that up to November more than 70 per cent. of the casualties in British land forces came from England, Wales, Scotland, and Northern Ireland. If the sea and air forces were considered, the share of the United Kingdom would be much larger. For the men who have held the oceans and the skies against the Axis come chiefly from the British Isles. If civilians be counted—and who would say that the gallant Britons who dug out of the ruins of their homes and beat back fire and fear were not fighting?—then the percentage would mount again.

This, of course, has no reflection on fighting men from the Dominions and Colonies. For who has not heard of the splendid exploits of the Aussies and New Zealanders? It may be that London has purposely publicized the deeds of men from the Dominions or that a dislike of boasting has played down the part of English, Welsh, Scots, and Irish from the home islands. Other factors, too, have affected our impressions. The Canadians, although making a magnificent contribution, have to their own disgust, missed most of the action, while the South Africans and Indians have operated chiefly in Ethiopia or Libya, out of news-camera range.

It is not the people of the Dominions or Colonies who carp. They know that the British Isles have furnished more than their share of men and money. It is Americans who seem to be so concerned about the outlying partners in the British Commonwealth. It is the kind of American who boasts of America's role as the arsenal of democracy and forgets that the United States' contribution is still largely in the appropriation stage, and forgets that even as a supplier of weapons Britain is still ahead. Britain has produced more than 90 per cent. of the weapons she is using and meanwhile has helped her allies.

The British Isles with roughly one-third the population of the United States, have spent about $40,000,000,000 on the war. Most of this is available now in war material, while despite vast appropriations, the United States has furnished so far only about $20,000,000,000 worth of fighting supplies. Britain has sent 1,000 tanks and 1,000 planes to Russia, while America is lagging behind the amounts promised. America is increasing the rate of her contribution rapidly, but the pace may be speeded by adequate appreciation of what others have done.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Slot machines in many municipalities are feeling the strong arm of the law.

It can and will happen here—North York will again go over the top in the Victory Loan drive.

We're not going to predict how long this war will last, but what a plastering the Japs are going to get when the Yanks get going.

Since the first Newmarket boy arrived overseas, The Express-Herald followed him, bringing news from home. Send in your news items so the boys over there know all that's going on at home.

We heard over the air the other evening that the French have no love for the English, but that they had for America. What a foolish statement by a Frenchman. A few French may hate the English but we know that all France is waiting for the day when the United Nations will free their country of Hitler's heel.

WAR COMMITTEE SURVEYS LARGE INCREASE IN DELINQUENCY IN GIRLS SHOWN

In order to get an accurate picture of the agricultural situation in Ontario, the Hon. P. M. Dewar, Minister of Agriculture has asked that an agricultural survey or census be taken with reference to the personnel on the farms, the labour situation in detail, the plans for crops and livestock in 1942 as compared with 1941. It was felt that if more accurate information regarding help could be secured it would enable the government to better organize their plans to provide the necessary help on farms this coming season.

Britain is asking for at least 600,000,000 lbs. of bacon and pork products, 30,000,000 dozens of eggs, and 12,000,000 lbs. of cheese. This amount is likely to be increased if the war in the Pacific cuts off Australia and New Zealand shipping which carried huge quantities of lamb and three or four times as much cheese as we have been shipping. The axis tigers are at Britain's throat and we must deliver the goods.

The agricultural representative of each county has been asked to appoint a committee along the lines of the county committees functioning so effectively in Great Britain, with all members serving without remuneration. We are advised by our representative, W. M. Cockburn, of Newmarket, that he has selected one man for each of the ten townships, together with the warden, the chairman and secretary of the Agricultural Committee of County Council, the president and secretary of the Federation of Agriculture.

In conducting the survey each township representative will act as convener for his territory and arrange for one man to assist him in each rural school section who in turn may enlist the assistance of two or three others to divide up the work and reduce the work to a minimum. The agricultural office at Newmarket has been burning the midnight oil to get approximately 5,000 sets of questionnaire forms ready for the committee members.

Some might think much of this information could be secured from last year's Dominion Census, but it must be remembered that this information is filed at Ottawa and as the information was given confidentially the details required regarding the various farms cannot be divulged—only general figures being released.

We know the farmers of York County will be pleased to co-operate with those giving voluntarily of their time by providing the local committee representatives with the approximate ages, acreages, classes of stock, crops, etc. being planned for 1942 as compared with 1941. Some of the questions will deal with the equipment available, and also repair parts that might be required to speed up the provision of repair parts for which there is a quota under the priority for metals. No questions pertaining to finances will be asked.

The committee consists of: Warden C. E. Toole, Newmarket; Elton Armstrong, Armistage of King Township; Archie Cameron, Woodbridge of Vaughan; Raymond Clarkson, Weston, of Etobicoke; Earl Bales, Lansing, of North York; Alex. Davidson, Agincourt, of Scarborough; Clark Young, Milliken of Markham; J. A. Clark, Stouffville of Whitechurch; John Smith, Queensville of East Gwillimbury; Robert A. Davidson, R. H. Corner, Pefferlaw of Georgian; Chas. Hooper, Gormley, and Robert W. Scott, Richmond Hill, chairman and secretary of the Agricultural Committee of County Council; James Renne, Stouffville, and E. F. Ramsay, Sharon, president and secretary of the York County Federation of Agriculture, and Agricultural Representative W. M. Cockburn.

Little Cindy had not been observing the proper table manners, and as a punishment she was made to eat her dinner at a little table in the corner of the dining-room. She was ignored by the rest of the family until they heard her saying grace:

"I thank Thee, Lord, for preparing for me a table in the presence of mine enemies."

"Neglect of Parents," Both Working, Blamed by Judge D. Webster

Juvenile delinquency among girls in York County was considerably higher in 1941 than in 1940 and, judging by the number of cases in January of this year, appears to be still on the rise, Judge Douglas Webster, who presides over the York County Juvenile and Family Court, said Friday night.

He blamed "neglect of parents" for the increase of "hoodlumism" among the teen-age girls and added "This is another 'ism' that will have to be taken care of after the war."

Judge Webster said that the majority of charges faced by young girls in his court are for failure to attend school or for loitering or for hitchhiking. "But, of course, there are a certain number who go to extremes," he said. "Last year a 14-year-old girl was charged twice with breaking and entering."

He blamed the present "wave of prosperity" brought on by the war for causing parents to go to work and neglect their children. "Many of these families went through some pretty lean years during the depression and are now for the first time being faced with the opportunity of making some 'real' money," he said. "They seem to be overwhelmed by the thought of buying all the luxuries they have longed for for years and both the mother and father go to work and the children are left to look after themselves."

He said a reason that juvenile delinquency has not increased greatly among boys is because a great number of them have enlisted in Canada's armed forces. "Nevertheless, while juvenile delinquency has not been on the rise among boys in York County, it certainly has not been on the decrease," he said.

While on patrol duty a member of the Home Guard came across a watchman asleep in his hut.

The siren had just previously sounded. Shaking the old man, he shouted: "Wake up; don't you know the siren's gone?"

Sleepily, he murmured: "Well, I'm not surprised; the people round here'll take anything."

BRITISH-ISRAEL

Last Sunday evening the British-Israel World Federation Newmarket Branch held their monthly meeting, with Rev. Harvey Linnen as speaker. He took for his subject, "The Significance of the Book of Common Prayer." Mr. Linnen explained that while on a visit to Niagara Falls, he was staying over the week-end with an Anglican family and attended the Church of England service with them, and for the first time really understood and appreciated the significance of the Book of Common Prayer. Since then he has given it deep and intense study, verifying difficult things by writing to London, England for information. He gave a wonderful address, which was pleasing both to Anglicans and members of the congregations alike. Mr. Linnen is always a welcome visitor to Newmarket Branch. In spite of the severe weather there was a splendid attendance.

POT POURRI

By Golden Glow

How many "Rose-leaves" can I find for my Pot Pourri jar this week? If I retail all the meetings and things going on I'd not have room for anything else! But I don't think I'll bother about them. We all, more or less, have our regular meetings to attend, and have not much time for those of other folks'. And as for "wars and rumors of war"—you all know by now I steer clear of that subject—though, mind you, it isn't so easy, for our lives are so centered round our war work, and our hearts so full of dread and anxiety for those in uniform, that we can scarcely think of anything else! Letters and boxes of good things to eat for our boys fill a good portion of our daily life, and that always reminds me of that place in the Bible where as long as Moses held up his arms the battle went with them, but when "for weariness they failed," as it says in the hymn so well known to us all, then the battle went against them—accordingly, too, one on each side held up Moses' arms—well—let us feel that in this war it is our part to hold up the arms of our boys in the same way by never failing them! If we can do it in no other way than investing our savings in this Second Victory Loan, let us not fail our boys, even if we have only fifty or a hundred dollars to invest—remember the "Widow's Mite." By this time we must all know in what capacity we can serve, I need not go into that, but we can encourage each other in every effort so that we shall not fail our boys in the front line of battle. I do not suppose it will take a very great stretch of imagination for us to twist that verse in Numbers 32, where it says (verse 6, by the way) "And Moses said unto the Children of God and to the Children of Reuben, 'shall your brethren go to war, and shall ye sit here?'" to make it mean us womenfolk. We can't all sign up, as many of our younger women have done—but we can hold up their arms in many ways—now, can't we?

Now, for a change of subject—When we look out and see ice and snow everywhere how our thoughts fly back to some pleasant place we have visited—or we wonder if the time will ever come when we shall have the chance to go somewhere we have always longed to go. I expect you know the feeling! It always gets me, especially on days when the snow lies white and deep, and the sky is that intense azure blue, and the leafless trees are outlined against the clear sky—I find myself wondering if the "Sunny South" can really compensate for the lack of such a wonderful winter day. And then you begin to think of the blue sky over Florida, and the waves lapping the shore of some of those delightful beaches—you think of New Orleans and then Mardi Gras on Shrove Tuesday. But guess what I am wondering, if ever I shall see, now war has changed all our outlook on life—I've always wanted to see the Mississippi River, ever since when very young I heard Tom Sawyer read out loud to me, before I could read for myself. Yes, that river has a peculiar fascination for me—and yet I don't exactly know why, for I'm sure it can't be half so interesting as my imagination has pictured it.

I used to think I'd love to go to Norway—the "Land of the Midnight Sun"—but now I'd prefer to go to Iceland, for ever since seven of our Newmarket boys spent the best part of a year there before being sent to England, I have been keenly interested in everything connected with that far-away island. (Oh, by the way, people there spell it Island instead of Iceland, as we do). I was reading in the Reader's Digest only yesterday that up in Northern Alaska and in Northern Greenland they do not have nearly so much snow as we do in our part of the world—no such low temperatures, for it is moderated by the warm current that flows beneath the ice. In fact, that was the reason of the huge icebergs—they melt and break away and come floating down from the far north. The article even told of muskox pasturing in flower-decked meadows away in the north of Greenland—and myriads of birds and insects, specially mosquitoes! We sure do get some queer ideas—but our childish imagination was no doubt inspired by the old missionary hymn, "From Greenland's icy mountains, from India's coral strand, where Africa's sunny fountains roll down their golden sand." And what we learn in our early days is very hard to change. I have always wanted to travel! How I did long to go to Egypt, and see the pyramids and the "Land of the Pharaohs."—Well, if we only know it, there are things just as interesting right at our very doors, if we only look for them. Where on earth could we get anything to equal Vivian roads? Where is there anything to compare with Wasago Beach, for instance? Oh, why go on? We could fill pages with such grand places—places within an hour or two's drive of old Newmarket—lovely parks and all—and think of the Muskoka region—within a few hours' by train or car—and the wonderful water trips one can take in all directions. But if we have now to content ourselves at home I can assure you there are still delightful places quite within easy walking distance of town and, if everyone is as fortunate as Newmarket citizens with our pleasant parks and public library, Citizens' Band and Bugle Band, our beautiful churches, and our well-kept and well-lighted streets, and our Boy Scouts and Military Camp—well, then, they are fortunate, indeed!

AURORA RESIDENT IS 82 YEARS OLD

Friends and Family Honor W. J. Knowles on Occasion of Birthday

W. J. Knowles, one of Aurora's oldest residents, celebrated his 82nd birthday at the home of his son, Reginald, on Monday. He was the recipient of many gifts by his children, grand children and great-grand children.

Mr. Knowles retired from his butcher business in 1940, after 59 years, and has taken a well-earned rest since that time. According to his friends, he worked in his shop from 6 o'clock in the morning until 6 p.m. every day.

Born in Thornhill, Mr. Knowles, with the exception of one year, has been a life-long resident of Aurora.

In 1890, he entered municipal politics in the town of Aurora, and was a member of the town council for 32 years. He became the town's reeve in 1916, and held the office of York County Warden.

Mr. Knowles is an active member of Aurora United Church and attends its services regularly. He has acted on the Board of Sessions, trustees and cemetery board.

He has one daughter, Ada (Mrs. J. Baines), of Keswick, three sons, Charles of Providence, Reginald and Bert of Toronto. His wife predeceased him some years ago.

HOLD TWO-DAY FARM MANAGEMENT COURSE

A two-day farm management course, the first of its kind in York County, was held in Richmond Hill on Tuesday and Wednesday of last week. This course was conducted by H. R. Hare of the Economics Branch, Ottawa, and R. M. Miller of Markham.

There was an average attendance of 69, and all agreed that this was one of the most practical courses for farmers held in York for some time. Mr. Hare has an apt way of talking to farmers in their own language, and he stressed the need for an increase in the volume of farm business without using more land or increasing the amount of labour needed. He also stated that a set of practical farm accounts on each farm, and a yearly budget were long over due, and gave easy methods of drawing up a budget and increasing the volume of business to make it balance.

Many of the farmers resolved to set up a system of accounts, and it is hoped that another course may be arranged next winter to straighten any difficulties that may arise.

ST. PAUL'S CHURCH

The Installation Ceremony of the Church Warden and Sidesmen took place at the morning service at St. Paul's Church last Sunday. Warden J. O. Little was absent through illness, but Warden J. E. Nesbitt answered for him as well as himself. Several former sidesmen will serve again in place of those who are now in uniform serving their country. Rev. H. S. Johnson conducted the service.

In the evening the Rector gave a preliminary address introducing the subject of The Prodigal Son, which will be the theme of his addresses every Sunday evening through Lent. At the Wednesday Lenten services, held in the Chapel at 7.30 every week, he will take the Holy Communion as the subject of his Lenten addresses.

The Spring Tea usually held by the W.A. on the first day of Spring, will be held this year early in April.

NEWMARKET WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

A goodly number of women attended the February meeting of the Newmarket Women's Institute at the home of Mrs. E. H. Adams, Park Ave., on Thursday last.

The president, Mrs. T. Watson, presided. The meeting was opened by singing the Institute Ode, followed by the Lord's Prayer in unison. The roll call was answered by "Your Pet Baby's Name."

The minutes of the last meeting and treasurer's report were read by Miss C. Roadhouse, the secretary-treasurer. Communications followed.

A letter on sugar rationing, and report of the Central Fund were read.

Plans were discussed for the nutrition course, under the leadership of Miss B. Wallace. This five-day course is to be held in March. The different committees then gave short reports under "Canadian Industries." Mrs. Arthur Brammar read a short paper on the "Necessity of Saving Wastes for War Purposes."

Mrs. McKimming on "Child Welfare" stressed the point that attending nutrition classes gave mothers a better knowledge how to feed their children the proper food, thus improving their health. Mrs. Dunn gave the last month's activities of the War Work Committee, and ways were discussed as to how to make money. A sale of homemade cooking, and an afternoon tea were mentioned for the near future.

It was decided to give the baby's layette on hand to the Red Shield for the Bomb Victims, and to make a supply of babies' clothes.

Mrs. R. Ecobichon gave the treasurer's report of war work committee. Mrs. Frank Hope, under the topic "Current Events," gave a very full and interesting talk, which was much enjoyed. Mrs. W. M. Cockburn read the pleasant story of St. Valentine.

The meeting closed by singing the National Anthem. A Valentine tea party was then enjoyed by all.

Clear Telephone Lines for All-Out Production

This Canadian worker and thousands like him are turning out tanks at a rate which early this year will reach 200 a month, according to official estimates. Many Canadian tanks have already seen action in Russia. Yet it was only last May that the first Canadian-built tank rumbled off the line.

No wonder telephone lines are loaded with calls: to suppliers of raw materials and essential parts; to Government and army officials; between plant departments; between continents.

You can help clear the telephone system for urgent war business by adopting "Wartime Telephone Tactics"... and by "rationing" the time you spend in neighbourly but unessential telephone talks with friends. Remember—your telephone is part of an interlocking system; needless delays on your line may hold up messages on which urgent wartime business depends.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a fitted white brocade satin gown with fingertip veil, caught with a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of Killarney roses and orchids.

Her bridesmaids were Miss Isabel Arnfield and Miss Bernice Stevens. The former wore a dress of turquoise blue chiffon with matching hat, and she carried a bouquet of Joanna Hill roses. The latter wore a dress of pale yellow chiffon with matching hat, and carried a bouquet of Butterfly roses.

Sergt. Bruce Andrews of Newmarket Training Camp was best man. The ushers were Mr. Bill Arnfield and Mr. George McConnell. The reception was held at Diana Sweets. Mrs. Breen received in a queen’s blue crepe dress with a corsage of buddleia and orchids. Mrs. Perrin received in a blue print crepe dress with a corsage of gardenias.

For travelling the bride changed to a powder blue crepe dress and hat with black accessories and wore a corsage of orchids. She wore a gold locket engraved with the R.C.A.F. insignia, the gift of the groom. The groom is at present stationed at St. Thomas.

ECHOES FROM THE SANCTUARY

(This column is dedicated to the task of bringing a little of the church to those who are shut-in. Its main content will be the pith or kernel of one or other of the sermons given on the previous Sunday).

Those who were unable to attend divine worship last Lord’s Day would be interested to hear a little about the evening service in the Presbyterian Church. It was the occasion of the 105th anniversary of that church, and we of the Christian Church, together with our brethren of the United Church lifted our own evening services to join with them.

It was a happy sight to see the church filled beyond its ordinary seating capacity, with chairs placed all the way down the aisles, and what is more to the point, there were people seated on all those chairs.

Dr. Runnells led us in the worship service, the writer read the scripture and led in prayer, and sermon was delivered by Dr. W. A. Cameron, Sect. of Foreign Missions for the Presbyterian Church in Canada.

Dr. Cameron’s message was based on the timely words found in Esther, chapter 4: verse 14: “Who knoweth whether thou art come to the kingdom for such a time as this?”

To the writer, it seemed that the kernel of the message was this: that to all of us there is entrusted a certain degree of power. It may not be the authority of a Queen as in Esther’s case. We cannot all enter into positions of power like that of prime ministers, or members of parliament. Yet each one of us has a certain amount of power which is ours to wield, and we must use it to lead our country out of chaos into peace. “Who knoweth whether YOU art come to the kingdom for such a time as this?”

Of course, Dr. Cameron was not talking to shut-ins. But if I might add a thought of my own, it would be to say that I believe the shut-in believer wields a mightier scepter of power than many who daily walk the streets, and take their place in the daily round and at the common task. The believer who is laid aside has infinite time to think things through, and often sees events in a clearer light than those who rush here and there on pleasure or business bent. The advice of such thinking people to a world which seems almost too hurried to think, might well prove invaluable.

Further, the shut-in has more time to engage in the healthful exercise of prayer, and the man who prays will have power both with men and with God. The thought has occurred to me that if all the true Christian people who are laid aside on beds or chairs of weakness were to unite their voices in prayer to the throne of God in this day of awful need, that those people would form the most powerful and most important unit in the world. Some are needed to work; some must fight; but these have time to pray, and “Prayer is the slender nerve that moveth the muscles of Omnipotence.”

May I try to impress upon my many shut-in friends just how great their power may be if they will use it to the full? Such an impression may be aided by recalling the well known story of the sick woman in England whose heart became burdened for the spiritual revival of her country. She began to pray about it. One day she read in a periodical of the blessings that were coming to America through the preaching of a man called D. L. Moody, aided by the singing of his friend, Sankey. Forthwith, she commenced to pray that God would send D. L. Moody to her own land, and to her own church.

IN MEMORIAM

ROWLAND—In loving memory of my dear father, James A. Rowland, who passed away February 25, 1940.

It's only a grave, but it still needs care, For the one we love is sleeping there;

Some may forget, now that he's gone, But we'll never forget, no matter how long.

—Sadly missed by son, Bill, B-31009 (overseas) and daughter-in-law Grace of Toronto.

ROWLAND—In loving memory of a dear husband and father, James A. Rowland, who passed away February 25, 1940.

If all the world were ours to give We would give it all, and more, To see our dear father's smiling face

Come walking in our door.

—Lovingly remembered by wife and daughters, Lila and Delores, and son, Lexy.

ANDREWS—In loving memory of Mrs. William Andrews, who passed away February 27, 1940.

Now the labourer's task is o'er, Now the battle day is passed, Now upon the further shore Lands the voyager at last.

She is not lost but gone before us, Let her never be forgot; Sweet her memory to the lonely, In our hearts she'll perish not.

He has taken now our loved one, We have seen her leave our side, With our Savior we shall meet her When we cross the rolling tide.

Sleep, dear mother, sleep—thy work is done, Thy toll is o'er, thy crown is won, How sweet to sleep on that blessed shore,

Where pain and sorrow is no more. —Sadly missed by Ted, Mabel, Bruce and Dad.

SPECIALTY TO BATTLE TANNERY IN BENEFIT GAME

So much fun did spectators and participants have in the big night Thursday evening last, sponsored by the Office Specialty employees, that another evening is being planned for Thursday, March 5. This time the opposing teams will be the old unfriendly rivals, Office Specialty and Davis Leather Co., and the proceeds will be for the Veterans' Soldiers' Comfort Fund.

On the tickets which will sell at 15c, or 2 for 25c, will be a draw for a beautiful hand-made bedspread, made and donated by Mrs. Aubrey Trivett of Main Street north.

The referee for the occasion will be Larry Molyneux of pro hockey fame, who promises to keep the cooler well warmed, if the boys don't stick to hockey. It's going to be another night of real fun, so plan now to attend.

GRAVENHURST AT SUTTON TO-NIGHT

Since Gravenhurst Indians have acquired Ran Forder, star goalie of the Newmarket Dominion junior champions of '33, the Muskoka club has been almost unbeatable. To-night the northerners journey to Sutton to take on Ellis Pringle and Company in the playoff series.

The Lake Simcoe squad will be out to repeat their performance of last Friday night, when they handed the Midland entry a solid 8-3 reverse.

There is no doubt that the winners of this group will go a long way in the intermediate "A" play-downs, and right now it very much looks like Sutton. If you enjoy hockey at its best, you'll be at Bill Gilroy's ice palace to-night. Reserved seats 50c. General admission 35c.

CITIZENS LEARN WHAT TO DO IN EMERGENCIES

(Continued from Page 1, Col. 5) age to the parts while being taken to a hospital. The most useful for this purpose is in applying some simple form a splints to the injured parts and fastened tight with a bandage or some strings. Splinting for the more common fractures was demonstrated on the live subject, and also on the human skeleton. An army stretcher was shown, and also the making of an improvised stretcher that would be good enough to carry a patient many miles over a country road where a modern motor ambulance is not available.

"In what I have to say tonight, I intend to be perfectly frank," stated Capt. Woods. "You may not agree with what I have to say, that is your privilege, but I do not believe that any good is derived from one saying things to an audience which one knows is going to be popular with the audience. That, I believe, is a sheer waste of time. In this war, in my opinion, we have had altogether too many speeches, far too many words and not enough action. One cannot turn the dial of the radio without finding somebody telling us what has happened yesterday, and what is going to happen tomorrow.

"I chose for the subject of my talk tonight, 'The Dangers of Defeatism.' While there is no question that over-confidence is a condition which must be avoided at all costs, the danger that we may be stampeded into the feeling that the war is lost because the Japanese took Singapore and Hong Kong, and because a portion of the United States Navy was smashed to pieces at Pearl Harbour, is, in my opinion, equally great if not greater. We are not licked, and we are not going to be.

"I believe that whatever enterprise one goes into, whatever kind of contest, whether it is a game of baseball, hockey or the big game of war, we must go into it with the conviction that we are going to win. If we listen to a people who come around and paint terrible pictures of what may happen two months or two years from now, we are not going to win the war, because we may be led to believe that it is a hopeless situation and defeat is inevitable. I believe, speeches of that kind do far more harm than good. We are not going to lose this war. We are not going to lose it for this reason: that the people of the British Commonwealth of Nations, and the people of the United States of America are not fighting just to defeat Germany or Japan, they are not fighting because they want to take a strip of territory in some other part of the world—they are fighting to retain something which has taken a long time to secure, and that something is the right to live as free men—the right to get up in a hall and say what one chooses and the right to get up on a street corner on a soap box and say what one pleases either for or against the Government of the day. I am convinced that the loss of Singapore, Hong Kong and all the other admitted disasters, which we have suffered in this war, will not prevent the free people of our nations from bringing this war to a successful conclusion.

The rights we are now enjoying have been hard won, and we are certainly not going to surrender them because of the loss of an odd fortress or two. After all, although Singapore was a mighty naval base, it is not so important today as it was some twenty years ago. While naval forces still play, and will continue to play, a big roll in modern warfare, the perfection of the Air Craft has very largely reduced the effectiveness of naval forces. When we ruled the oceans because of our naval supremacy, Singapore was an essential naval base. It is still important, but I would suggest, not important enough to make us down-hearted.

It seems to me that we can still, whether we are in the army or whether we are in civil life, be doing something. It need not necessarily be ARP work. There is one line of activity, one line of endeavour which I think is more important than either of those two functions, and they are important enough—and that activity is taking a live interest in the way this war is prosecuted in this country, because after all, this is the only country where you can do anything about it.

"I have no use for the man or woman who has no convictions, or who has convictions and is afraid to express them. I believe that every citizen in order to be a good citizen must take a stand which he or she believes to be right, or take a stand against that which he or she believes to be wrong. I am convinced that if every citizen here in Newmarket, in Ontario, and in the Dominion, would wake up and take an interest in the way this war is being prosecuted, it would be a great contribution to the successful outcome of the war. I believe that because I see every day an increasing tendency on the part of certain public men and news papers to thwart the will of the people.

"The suggestion that the people should not be consulted on issues of National import, that some sections of the people should be deprived of the right to select their own representative in Parliament is, in my opinion, extremely dangerous.

"I think you will be making a very definite contribution to the successful outcome of this war if you criticize your Governments, whether they be Dominion or Provincial, but criticize them fairly, and do not think that because the government does not do just what you want it to do, that the members of the government are insincere. I would like to see in this country a great deal more discontent. I think a lot of discontented people is a very healthy thing. Complacency and satisfaction with one's lot never brought any progress. The wheels of progress would not revolve if we were satisfied with conditions as they are. Unfortunately it does not take very much to make some people satisfied.

"I feel that if this war is going to be carried to a successful conclusion, a greater attempt must be made to organize our effort. To organize not only the man power of this country, and I think the man power needs to be organized much more effectively than it has been up to the present time, but to organize, to plan, all our national activities.

"I would suggest, my friends, the thing which ought to be the mission in life for all of us is to demand of his or her elected representatives that our whole war effort and our whole economic life during the war and after the war ought to be planned so that the best possible results be obtained with a minimum of material and effort. That only can be done if the right people are put in the right place. I don't mean to suggest that all those people can be found in one political party, and I am not suggesting that this country should have a coalition government, but I am suggesting that greater care should be given to the selection of people who are going to fill important posts, whether those people be in the municipality of Newmarket, or people in high government offices. You people are the people who in the final analysis can determine the kind of persons who are to be put in those offices. You won't help if you stay home on election day."

The intelligent first aider must know what to look for in accidents and to recognize in what sequence to carry out first aid.

1. Hemorrhage demands immediate attention to control bleeding.
2. Wounds should be covered with clean dressings to prevent infection.
3. Fractures must be cared for so as to prevent further damage.
4. Internal injuries treated for symptoms of shock.
5. Head injuries, any patient who has been unconscious even momentarily is a potential fractured skull case and should be treated accordingly until proven otherwise. He should be kept lying quietly until transportation has been arranged.
6. Death. In the presence of death, cover the victim and leave undisturbed until authorities arrive.

The first aider should know how to recognize the cardinal signs of fractures. The patient's statement that he felt the bone snap is evidence. Unnatural position or movement, or even the ends of bone protruding through the skin is further evidence. X-ray is the positive proof.

In giving emergency treatment to fracture cases, the first aider should have three aims in view: 1. Prevent further damage. 2. Relieve pain. 3. Treat shock.

A sprain is a stretching or partial tearing of ligaments around a joint without a displacement of bones. Signs and symptoms of a sprain are: History of a twist pain, swelling, point of tenderness, later bruising of tissues. Emergency treatment includes rest, elevation, application of cold to injury, bandage or adhesive for support and movement should be encouraged after twenty-four hours to prevent

WORLD DAY OF PRAYER

Last Friday, February 20, the Women's World Day of Prayer service was held as usual on the first Friday in Lent. This year it was held in the Christian-Congregational Church, with Mrs. E. Haines as leader, and Mrs. J. M. Dales conducting the service and giving the address. Mrs. Dales also explained how the collection for the day was apportioned, and read several letters of thanks from former recipients of the allocation of money from the 1941 offertory. The service was somewhat different to other years for instead of only one person composing the order of service it was arranged by a committee of four women missionaries, Miss Margaret Brown, China; Miss Kate McLaurin, India; Mrs. James Dickson, Formosa, and Mrs. Victor Spencer, Japan. The theme was "I Am the Way," and it was divided into four parts, viz. The way of the Father, The way of Love, The way of Service and Sacrifice; The way of Hope, with the four parts being divided by suitable hymns.

A member from each church in town took part in the service. Each church was well represented, and in spite of the zero weather and a bitter Northwest wind, the church was well filled. Next year it will be held in the Salvation Army Hall.

stiffness. A dislocation is a displacement of one bone from its normal relation to another, occurring at a joint.

Signs and symptoms are: History of severe injury to joint, deformity, pain, loss of function at joint, swelling and later bruising of surrounding tissues.

Emergency treatment consists of 1. Do not correct a dislocation, for fear of doing harm to nearby structures. 2. Splint the limb in manner to protect further movement and give comfort to patient. 3. Care must be taken not to bandage too tightly for fear of the subsequent swelling which may occur. 4. Arrange for transportation to a doctor or a hospital. 5. Cold compresses may be applied to keep down swelling and give comfort to patient. 6. A leg or arm should be elevated which also tends to keep down swelling.

News and Views of People and Things by Isabel Inglis Colville

People

The sympathy of the community goes out to Mrs. Fred Reid, whose brother, Sgt. Pilot Fred Rofey of the R.C.A.F., was killed in action over England last week.

The Willing Workers will meet at the home of Mrs. Leslie Harper on Wednesday, March 4, assisted by Mrs. Colville. As this is a quilting day as well, the members will remember it's a pot luck dinner, and those who are responsible will bear this in mind. Prayer, Mrs. Colville. Responsive reading, Mrs. Harper. Topic, "The Deacon's Week," Mrs. Colville. The quilts being badly needed, it is hoped every member will make a real effort to be present, and to be early.

Pte. Raymond Needler's former fellow-workers in room 23 of the Office Specialty plant, on Saturday presented him with a signet ring. These presentations to boys enlisting are a real source of pleasure to them now, and when they carry them on "wherever duty calls. They speak of friendship and remembrance.

On Thursday afternoon a group of ladies met for prayer at the home of Mrs. Ross Armitage. The meeting opened with the Doxology, "Sweet Hour of Prayer." Each lady was given a verse of scripture and after each reading, Mrs. Cale of Vondorf made a short comment. All verses dealt with prayer. Each lady took part in prayer, then after a hymn Mrs. Cale gave a short talk on "The Power of Prayer."

Mr. V. Higginson of Newmarket was a supper guest on Sunday evening at the home of Mrs. Tucker. Aircraftman Kenneth Wagg of St. Thomas, who is convalescing after an appendicitis operation, spent the weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Harper, and is now at his home in Goodwood.

Mrs. George Wood is spending a few days with friends in Toronto. Mr. Bruce Parker is visiting friends in Toronto.

Mrs. Harper on Saturday attended the funeral of her aunt, Mrs. Rowland, in Toronto.

Mrs. W. Williams hopes that the women of Bogartown, Pleasantville and Pine Orchard will come to Bogartown schoolhouse on Saturday afternoon as there are three quilts ready to be quilted. Come early!

The Bogartown Community Club will meet at the schoolhouse on the evening of March 4 (Wednesday). The banquet given in honor of our new warden, at Aurora on Wednesday evening of last week, testified in no uncertain terms to the popularity of our new executive, and the esteem in which he is held. The banquet itself was all that a banquet should be, testifying to the culinary skill of the ladies of St. Andrew's Church.

The program was excellent, the vocalists, Mrs. Oldham and Mrs. Willson, the elocutionist, Miss Evans, and the Harper orchestra winning well deserved laurels, and the magician, Mr. Stocombe, was a real magician. The speakers all remembered that "brevity is the soul of wit," which speakers don't always do. It was pleasant that the guest speaker should be an old friend of Warden Toole's, Prof. Steckley. Another interesting feature was the presence of 95-year-old ex-warden, Seneca Baker, proving that even the cares and responsibilities of wardenship do not prevent those holding the honor, from reaching a ripe old age. The various speeches were all excellent and a beautiful silver tea service was presented to Warden and Mrs. Toole, who looked charming in black with pearls.

The warden's own address was an outstanding feature of a most successful evening.

On Thursday evening, Mrs. Chocklin gave a progressive euchre party for patriotic purposes. A nice sum was realized, and was divided between the fund for boxes for the boys overseas and the B.W.V.'s Fund.

On Friday evening there was a pot luck supper given by the Bogartown Community Club, and a program given by the school children, advertising the Victory Loan. Both supper and concert were well worth while.

The children, as the provinces spoke for what they were, told of their resources and enterprises, made people — Canada aware — and all this interspersed with patriotic songs, splendidly rendered by the young people. The proceeds were for boxes for our boys overseas.

PINE ORCHARD

The Pine Orchard Community Club met at the school last Friday evening. The Pine Orchard Enterprise was read by Mr. Douglas Hope. After an enjoyable evening of games, lunch was served.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Hope on March 6.

Boxes are to be packed shortly for our soldiers overseas. Please leave contributions at the Chap man garage before March 10.

Things "BOOKS"

Do you sometimes think of the friends who abide within your book shelves, side by side? Of the way they have accompanied you, through doubts and fears and still are comrades down through the years of later life, and yet are there to comfort you, when full of care? I still have all my childish books

—they've been well read, to judge by looks, their covers worn and somewhat faded, for always some child wants to read the books that met my childish need. Of "Elsie" books there are twenty-three, and I am sure you will agree that "Little Women," "Little Men" were fine to follow after them.

Then "Jack and Jill," the "Katy" books filled corners in my reading nooks. The "Pansy" books came in their turn, and with religious zeal, I'd burn, and wish that some one would put me within a book and make me be, as sweet and gentle, and as truly kind, as were these children of the mind.

The ideals I have missed are sad indeed, though I suppose from each, a tiny need of good has come to me, and linger still, perhaps, in time, some mission to fulfil. Then some one opened Dickens' portals wide, and with delight that's never changed, I crept inside to live with "David Copperfield and Little Nell," to share Micawhere woes and long to tell Uriah Heep—to either, the thoughts that reading, I could only mutter. Scott, Lytton, Thackeray—I read them all and fear, if I should try again, I'd fall into some evil habits I have learned of late of skipping here and there, to learn the fate of characters that interest me, and leaving out the bits about the others I don't care about. The books I read of late—of course not all—go from my mind as soon as I let fall the cover that spells "finis" to the tale, and makes me wonder why these later books DO fail to stay in memory as did those of yore—perhaps its just their sameness we deplore, or maybe its the war news crowds them out and makes us just forget what they're about.

But even if they don't make much impression, they take away our thoughts for just a session, and let us find respite from doubts and fears engendered by the news that fills our ears, as Japs and Nazis, scheme and fight and plot to reach democracy's most vital spot. And there are books that give us courage too, the Bible lives again, for me and you, and lives of Great men who have fought and won, show what with strength and courage can be done. And books that make us laugh are to the good—they're like the topping off on solid food. They make us cheerful, and its good that we should be as cheerful as we well can be.

NEWS FROM KING CITY AND DISTRICT

Report of the Annual Meetings of King Charge of the United Church for 1941.

The annual meetings of King, Laskay and Teston United Churches on the King charge for the year ending December 31, 1941, were held on Wednesday and Thursday, January 14th and 15th, and on Wednesday, Jan. 21st, respectively. A fair average attendance was recorded at each of these meetings. The fellowship was enhanced by sumptuous meals served either before or after business.

A slight decrease in total membership was reported due to general causes, the chief of which was removals for the purpose of employment in war industries, etc. There were 25 baptisms, eight marriages and eight burials recorded in the charge, five members being removed by the latter cause.

Three Sunday schools operated on full time basis, with a total membership of 222, including officers and teachers.

There are two Women's Missionary Societies and three Women's Associations, one of which is affiliated with the W.M.S. The total membership of each of these is 64. The Sunday school raised a total of $599. The W.M.S. a total of $270, and the Women's Associations a total of $622. There were two Young People's Unions, one at Laskay, the other at King with an approximate membership of 50, which, altogether with the C.G.I.T. groups at King, raised $150 by mid week activities.

The missionary and maintenance fund of the charge reported an increase over 1940, the total amount being $431. The grand total of revenue raised by all organizations of the churches of the charge, for all purposes was $5,200.

Altogether the year's work was accounted to have been a fine success, and the congregations are to be congratulated on their devotion to the church and their sacrifices on behalf of it in these critical times which are making so many demands upon their time, energy and incomes.

King Township Red Cross Branch News

The local branch of the Red Cross reports that there is a steady request for supplies of clothing for the British civilian needs. The Ontario division has forwarded a request to this branch for the following articles: 25 women's skirts, 50 women's nightgowns, 50 prs. of boys' pajamas, 50 units of children's clothing, each unit consisting of one skirt, one light blouse, one woolen blouse, 15 prs. women's gloves and 20 prs. women's socks.

While there is no definite time limit for this work to be finished, still it is desired that the supplies be forwarded as soon as possible. The Canadian Red Cross, through its workers overseas, is able to keep in close touch with the needs of those in the bombed areas of Britain. The workers locally can rest assured that the clothing made by them is the most practical for the purpose intended.

This is a very important point to remember when working for the Red Cross. The supplies you make will be what are required, and they will be at the proper place when the need arises.

Hockey Notes

King and district has developed a hockey awareness that has risen to great enthusiasm during the last winter. The team, known as King hockey club, is comprised of players from different parts of the township so that general support is manifested. The team has been elevated from intermediate "B" to intermediate "A" in the Ontario

Rural Hockey Association on protest by Kleinburg.

On Friday, Feb. 20, on the home ice at Bolton, King met Clearville, a club from the Galt area, that had never been defeated, but this was their Waterloo. King rose as victors in a brilliant game, and very few penalties. Sparkling display by King City put them in the lead three: one first period; five: one second and final result 1:2.

Goals were scored by Follitt, Rawlings, Dennis, Graham and Sayers.

A two-minute silence was observed before the game commenced, for the late Sgt.-Pilot George Davis, a former member of the local team.

In an overtime game at Galt on Monday night, Clearview defeated King 3:2 on fast ice. They meet on a neutral rink shortly.

Laskay W.I. euchre had 23 tables on Feb. 20. Prize awards to Mrs. B. Lloyd, John Murray, first; Ellen Gray, Marvin Hunter, second; Mrs. H. Platt, Earl Ham, third. Next euchre will be March 6.

Miss Louise Follitt of Toronto spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Follitt.

King Women's Institute cleared $103, from sale of hot dogs, sandwiches and coffee at the Walkington sale last week. Proceeds for soldiers' boxes. The rush was so great a joyce gave way in the floor where the W.I. served. There was scarcely room to serve the cold and hungry crowd, they crowded in so closely to the good-smelling booth.

Walkington Sale

The attendance and sales of Cameron E. Walkington's auction sale held on Feb. 18, made an unprecedented record in York County. Close onto 5,000 people was the estimate. 1,000 cars and trucks parked on the Walkington and Kyle farms, and one-and-a-half miles each way on the townline. Veteran sale-goers stated they had never seen the like; it was like the exhibition, they said. Bidders could not be heard, and several left in the afternoon because of the crowd. They came from all parts of the county, and from Pickering, Whitby, Brooklin, Pefferlaw, Hamilton, Guelph, Toronto, Brampton, Ressor Bros. of Markham, Inspector R. J. Majury, Geoffrey Beatty of Guernsey Co., Dr. Joseph Sullivan were well known buyers.

J. Carl Sargeon of Maple, and Clarke Prentice of Milliken, experienced auctioneers, officiated at the doubling auction, which kept up from 10 a.m. until dark, when everything was sold. The sales amounted to $9,120. A cow with a four-day-old calf, brought $150, and the 19 cows averaged $105. The herd sire sold for $135. Heifers, two years and under, sold up to $75. Heifers less than year old brought $46 each. Sows sold up to $50, and horses around $100 or more. Wheat went at $1.06 bushel; early oats for 80c, and barley at 88c. A mow of hay, 15 feet high in the barn, brought $180; a 1938 tractor for $600, and a three-year-old cultivator for $121; a 1922 tractor plow for $50; a cement mixer bought for $5, went for $23.

The famous iron plow, high cut, imported from Scotland by John Morgan, sold for $15. With it Mr. Walkington won Ontario plowman-ship. James Cameron of Vaughan, and the late James McLean of Richmond Hill, won provincial championship with the same plow.

An auctioneer himself, Councilor Walkington understands the quality of goods the buyer looks for. A successful farmer and business manager, he produced quality in all departments. Long association with Plowmen's Associations, a successful municipal career and a growing insurance business have contributed to his affairs. Time and energy can now be devoted to insurance and auctioneering as a stable vocation.

Hon. Geo. Hoadley, director of Distribution for Services for Mental Hygiene, will address a public meeting at Temperanceville United Church basement, on Thursday, Mar. 5, on the subject "The Municipal Doctor." His coming is sponsored by Temperanceville Radio Farm Forum groups, and an invitation is open to all. Snowball heard Mr. Hoadley on Feb. 20.

Memorial Service

A very large gathering from many sections of the countryside and outside points assembled in King United Church on Thursday, Feb. 17, for the memorial service to Sgt.-Pilot Davis, R.C.A.F., killed on active service in England and buried at Ashton Downs, Gloucestershire. Many of these were young people and former school mates of George.

The Union Jack and Flying Corps flags were draped in the chancel and altar. Several baskets and sprays of fine flowers from friends were added.

The foreword and prayers of invocation were given by Rev. J. H. Anderson, minister of the church. Psalm 90 was read by Rev. A. H. Halbert, Newtonbrook. Scripture, St. John's 15: 1-17 by Rev. E. G. Worrall of King. Prayer, Rev. W. F. Wrixon, Richmond Hill; scripture, "Souls of the Righteous" by Rev. E. G. Robb, Birch Cliff; prayer, Rev. C. E. Fockler, Maple; vocal solo, "God Wipes the Tear From Every Eye," Mrs. T. Proctor. Tributes by Rev. John Galloway and Rev. W. F. Wrixon. Tribute was paid to the fine courage, the natural sunny disposition, and the supreme sacrifice of Sgt.-Pilot George Davis. He was willingly given to a fine cause by a fine family, a gift indeed, and the cause of Our Pride. After the singing of "God Save the King," two minutes' silence was observed.

Replying, the boy's father, Rev. Douglas Davis, expressed his deep appreciation of the manifestations of honour and esteem to his late son, and of sympathy for his family and himself. He thanked all who at any time, had helped George to do the right, encouraged or directed him.

The Benediction was pronounced by Rev. C. N. Watch, who with Rev. E. G. Robb, represented Toronto East Presbytery. Following the service, Mr. and Mrs. Davis and family were warmly welcomed by many friends.

Strange how our little word, or deed, or gesture would help to mould those silvered wings, of one lad's destiny against an English sky. His gift, his life! Our life had best begin at dawn, the noblest and the best we can conceive, for other lads will gather strength from us and look to God for life.

Lot 3, Con. 5, King Township, the original crown farm of the Wilkie's, was sold by the owner, Harvey Follitt, to Aubrey Campbell. Two weeks later the sale was held on Feb. 14, and Mr. and Mrs. Follitt are now settled in King village on the "Cummings" property, Main Street. The Follitts' owned this farm for approximately 87 years. Mrs. Follitt going there as a bride. We trust they will enjoy the new location. It is gratifying to see the farm pass into local hands. The Campbell's are the third owners in close to 150 years, it is thought.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hinds and son of Toronto spent a recent week end with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hollinshead.

A smaller attendance than usual was present at Day of Prayer in All Saints' Church, on Feb. 20. Mrs. Patton, Mrs. Galloway, Miss Jarvis, Mrs. Rolling presided. Other centres at Schomberg and Kettleby and Strange had average attendance.

Mrs. Rock was hostess to Eversley W.M.S. on Thursday last, and Mrs. Harvey McBride entertained All Saints' W.A. on Thursday.

Temperanceville W.I. branch will reduce refreshments at regular meetings to save on sugar.

Temperanceville and Oak Ridges United Church groups will hold service at Temperanceville at 7.30 D.S.T. on Sunday evenings. On March 18, the two groups will give a St. Patrick's social at the church. The King Baptist circuit announce that Rev. Harry Wilson of Whitvale will take over the charge as permanent pastor on Sunday, March 1. Kettleby 11 a.m. Portageville 3 p.m. King 7.30 p.m. All on standard time for March 1. Any alteration in time may be made later. Mr. Wilson succeeds the Rev. John Galloway.

UNION STREET

The regular meeting of the Women's Institute will be held at the home of Mrs. Irvine Rose, on Thursday, March 5th, at 2 p.m.

Instructor Loses Life

This community was shocked to hear of the death of Pilot Officer Willard Madden, who came to his death as the result of a plane crash near Kingston last Monday night. He was instructor and was flying with two English pupils at the time of the crash.

Willard was well known here, his father, Rev. F. W. Madden having served as the United Church minister here from 1935-39. He took an active part in community activities and was popular with everyone.

The funeral was held on Thursday from the Morley Bedford Funeral Parlours in Toronto, and was attended by a number from Queensville. Interment was at Dunbar.

The bereaved have the deepest sympathy of the community.

Stratford. After he had taught school for six years, he resumed his studies and attended Stratford Collegiate Institute and later the University of Toronto. After studying medicine for a while he entered Victoria College, Toronto, to begin study for the ministry.

Upon completing his work he had a chance to take a charge in Iowa, where, a short time later, he took his young bride, Hope Morris of Stratford. Together they led an intensely interesting life in the work of the church.

The movie contains warm comedy and is a sympathetic and delightful story of the trials and tribulations of the life of a rural minister.

The film will be shown privately at the Strand Theatre on Saturday morning to the town clergy, school principals and other representative citizens.
